Triple Classic auto race to be run at MIR tonight

Staff Report

A driver scoring a grand slam in the Alabama Triple Classic stock car race would win $6,000.

The Triple Classic consists of 100-lap Late Model Stock Car events at three tracks. They ran

Friday night at the Birmingham Super Speedway and will run tonight at Montgomery International Raceway and Sunday at Huntsville.

Local divisions also will compete. Races began at 8 p.m.

B.J. Parker, president of the sanctioning Southern All-Star Racing, said the winner of the 100-lap race will get $1,500. A prize of will be given to the high-point man of the series. If one driver takes all three races, he will get an additional $500.

Drivers from Montgomery,

Birmingham, Huntsville, Opp, Mobile, Nashville, Tenn., Pensacola, Fla., and Georgia will be participating.

Among the drivers expected to participate are Ken Smith, Jimmy Kitchens and Jerry Goodwin.
